Who We Are

Student Support Services-TRIO (SSS) is a highly specialized program designated to increase the graduation rates of our UNMs most deserving and talented students. Our motivated college students are first-generation to college and from moderate to low-income families or may have documented disability.

Mission

The mission is to increase the college retention and graduation rates of program participants at the University of New Mexico Main Campus. The SSS program draws upon a holistic framework where committed participants receive individualized support by addressing their educational and personal needs. Support is offered through academic and career advising, tutoring, mentoring, personal, financial and graduate school guidance, workshops and social/cultural events.

Vision

A transformative program which inspires and empowers students to overcome, social, cultural, economic and academic barriers to higher education at The University of New Mexico.
Charles, a 25-year 82nd Airborne 101st Screaming Eagles 10th Mountain Army veteran, transferred from the CNM SSS-TRIO program to the UNM SSS-TRIO program, 2018. He shares arriving at the UNM main campus was made easier because he naturally connected with the familiarity of SSS. He stated, “my transition to UNM was made better because I was able to immediately meet several new people through UNM SSS.” To ensure a smooth transition from a 2-year college to a 4-year college, Charles was assigned a UNM SSS Peer Coach, also named Charles who provided mentoring and camaraderie. Charles met with both SSS Advisors, Tamara and Katherine for general guidance and educational support. Out of school for over 25-years, Charles was a bit rusty on his math skills. To tackle his college level mathematics course, Charles regularly met with another SSS Peer Coach, Kim, for one-on-one tutoring. The outcome was fantastic! Charles earned an ‘A’ in the math course and was able to continue on his educational path to become an elementary teacher. Additionally, SSS Advisors met with Charles consistently where he has been able to develop his academics and engage in building a community.

The Student Support Services-TRIO program stands with students and focuses on the creating a positive environment by engaging students beyond traditional academics. Key to the program, the staff validates each students’ educational needs creating a sense of belonging and participation.
