President's Town Hall tomorrow

UNM President Garnett S. Stokes will host a virtual town hall tomorrow with James Holloway, Provost and Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs; Dr. Paul Roth, Chancellor and Executive President for Health Sciences; Teresa Costantinidis, Senior Vice President for Finance & Administration; and other administrators and health professionals to provide the most recent and up-to-date information on how UNM is responding to the COVID-19 pandemic. You can submit your questions for the panel un advance by completing this survey. The questions will be aggregated by category and addressed during the town hall. Please try to have questions submitted by Friday at 9 a.m.; the University will continue to review and provide answers to questions or issues that have not been addressed. There will also be an opportunity to ask questions via Zoom during the session, using the Q & A function. The town hall will be recorded and posted on the UNM President's website and the UNM COVID-19 website.

OSA and COVID-19

As we try to navigate our new temporary "normal" I want to ensure you that although we are not all on campus, we are available remotely. We are using email, phone, social media, Zoom and other creative ways to keep our Lobos safe. University Communications and Marketing is continuously updating their Coronavirus website and their Limited Operations article to keep us all informed of how departments and services are operating. The next few pages are a comprehensive of specific information on our departments and programs.

Until next time...

~Cheo
