FROM THE VP

Hello everyone,
Hard to believe that we are already into November, and that means that your University-Wide Mandatory Training is due by December 1. All regular faculty and staff, temporary faculty and staff, on call staff, and student employees (including grad students) are required to complete the designated University wide mandatory

- Prevention of Harassment and Discrimination
- Basic Annual Safety Training - 2021
- Active Shooter on Campus: Run, Hide, Fight - 2021
- Information Privacy and Security Awareness Training

training via UNM Learning Central. Please ensure that your staff complete their training by December 1.

AASS HONORED AT ABCC NATIONAL CONFERENCE

UNM's African American Student Services received two prestigious awards at the Association for Black Culture Centers (ABCC) National Conference in Willmington, NC last weekend. Dannelle Kirven, AASS Sr. Student Success Specialist, was named 2021 New Professional of the Year, and African American Student Services was also honored with the Innovative Website of the Year award. ABCC is an organization that seeks to celebrate, promote and critically examine the cultures of African American, Latino, Asian American and Native American ethnic groups with the goal of institutionalizing those centers, to enhance individual, community and global development.

SCHOLARSHIP SPOTLIGHT

EL CENTRO DE LA RAZA
STUDENT EMERGENCY SCHOLARSHIP

The scholarship is available to any degree-seeking UNM student who can demonstrate critical financial need for the current semester. Selected undergraduate students will be awarded up to $400 and selected graduate/professional students will be awarded up to $450.

Applications must include:

- One-page personal statement expressing the situation that created the emergency and how this scholarship will support your educational goals. Please note: this scholarship will first be applied to any balance on your Bursar's account.
- Supporting documentation that will assist the committee in making its decision.
- Current unofficial transcript, which establishes you have a GPA of 2.0 or higher, or that you are a first semester freshman.
