

Hello everyone,

As you have probably heard, the Division of Student Affairs will welcome Dr. Eric Scott as the new vice president. Dr. Scott was selected after the University conducted an extensive national search. I am grateful to the committee for their hard work in ensuring the future of the Division is in good hands. Dr. Scott is currently the associate vice president for Student Affairs at Boise State University, and will start at UNM on August 1. As I will be retiring at the end of June, Dr. Jenna Crabb will take over as the interim position for the month of July to ensure a smooth transition for Dr. Scott. I appreciate Dr. Crabb's willingness to serve in this role in the interim and know that she will do a great job! Please read the story at UNM News to learn more about Dr. Scott.

With the departure of Cindy Mason from our Division, I am pleased to announce that Cheryl Wallace will fill in as our Division HR Agent. Cheryl has several years of experience with Human Resources policies and procedures and I am sure she will do a great job in this role for our Division.
-Tim

HELP US HELP THOSE AFFECTED BY NM FIRES

Each of Us Protects All of Us, ¡Que Viva el Norte!

Our Lobos come to New Mexico from all parts of the world. This is the place where education opens our eyes, where the Land of Enchantment truly is our happy place, and where friends become family. Our tight-knit group of Lobos stands for each other, protects one another, and ensures that in times of triumph and devastation- we are there to help our fellow Lobos. Our Northern New Mexico Lobos are facing tragedy and devastation as one of the worst recorded wildfires ravishes the land in which they were born and raised. Many of us trace our history to this land for centuries and call it home. The Hermit's Peak and Calf Canyon Fires have taken homes, displaced families, and threatened the livelihoods of many. We must bring our strength, compassion, and resilience to aid our Lobo families who are struggling through these tough times. Whether you have been affected yourself, want to donate, or simply support our Lobo family, please join us.

-Nasha Torrez, UNM Dean of Students

COMMISSIONING CONGRATS!

On April 21, the University of New Mexico's Naval ROTC Unit conducted its annual awards ceremony to recognize high performing midshipmen in the battalion. The ceremony was conducted at the front lawn of the unit with over 10 guests from the University and local service organizations in attendance. Over 30 Midshipmen were recognized for their academic, physical, and professional excellence by 11 outside service organizations including American Legion Post 49, Sons of the American Revolution, Daughters of the American Revolution, Military Order of the Purple Heart, Military Officers Association of America, and the local chapters of the Navy and Marine Corps League.

The Naval ROTC Unit is approaching its 81st year on campus and the Unit continues to produce the highest quality Marine Corps Officers, Surface Warfare Officers, Submarine Warfare Officers, and Naval Aviation Officers into Naval service. On May 14th, the Naval ROTC Unit will commission eight new Ensigns into Naval service at Domenici Hall. After graduation, our newly commissioned Ensigns will report to the Basic Division Officer Course in Norfolk, Virginia, Naval Nuclear Power School in Charleston, South Carolina, and Naval Introductory Flight Evaluation training in Pensacola, Florida. The Unit will celebrate a change of command on May 16, as they bid farewell to Captain Nick Sarap after three years of meritorious service and welcome Captain Gary Cave. Captain Cave recently relinquished command of the USS ZUMWALT (DDG-1000) in San Diego, California, before assuming command of the Naval ROTC Unit as the incoming Professor of Naval Science.
