

Message from the VP

Dr. Scott at the GPSA installation ceremony.

Dear Student Affairs Colleagues,

You did it! Congratulations! Yes, I know a few of you were conferred degrees this weekend, but what I really mean is that you've made it to the end of commencement season. Of course our efforts to support students do not end here, but I am hoping we can catch a collective breath before moving to the next phase of our planning and implementation. We have also successfully moved through the interview finalist process for our three new leadership positions and have been fortunate to have already announced the first, Dr. Jenna Crabb, as Executive Director for Student Resources. Keep an eye out for additional announcements over the coming weeks as the remaining search processes come to a conclusion. I am excited that we will have the opportunity to begin the year with a team who will help us advance several critical projects and process improvements that will meaningfully impact each of our units and their ability to provide outstanding support, development, and service to our students. Thank you for all you do, and again my heartfelt congratulations on a year well done!

With appreciation,

Eric?"

Crabb Named Executive Director for Student Resources

After a competitive nationwide search, Dr. Jenna Crabb has been named the new Executive Director for Student Resources in the Division of Student Affairs. Crabb got her start at The University of New Mexico as a student, and has subsequently served in a variety of professional roles at UNM for over 25 years. She will start her new Executive Director role on July 1.

Crabb earned her doctorate in Counselor Education with an emphasis in Organizational Learning and Instructional Technologies, master's degree in Counseling, and bachelor's degree in Criminology and English at The University of New Mexico. She has served as an adjunct faculty for counselor education at both UNM and NM Highlands University, Rio Rancho.

"I am humbled and honored to be selected as the new Executive Director for Student Resources," Crabb says. "I'm excited for this role and the new opportunities it will give me to enhance the great work already being done while moving the division forward." Read more...

ASUNM/GPSA Officer Installation

The Associated Students of UNM and the Graduate and Professional Student Association installed their new officers for the 2023-2024 year. Krystah Pacheco will serve as ASUNM president and Mikenzie Chessman will serve as vice president. GPSA president is Justin Lauriano and council chair is Jarrod Ronquillo.

New Student Orientation

It's almost time for New Student Orientation for our incoming Lobos! All incoming students complete an orientation program to assist in learning about campus resources, making connections with faculty and staff, and registering for courses. Please visit the NSO webpage for the 2023 schedule and relevant information.

Student Affairs Staff Spotlight Tuesdays

The Student Affairs communications team wants to shine a bright light on the countless, outstanding, staff and student employees who provide invaluable support to our Lobos and UNM community through a new Staff Spotlight Tuesday social media campaign.

With 500+ staff and student employees in our division, how well do we really know the people we work with every day? Do you know what your colleagues value most about UNM, their favorite campus spot to decompress, what they would tell their 15-year-old self about college, or what ridiculous, but useful, fact they know that makes them unique? This new initiative will help you get the answers to these and other questions.

Each week, we'll choose someone and give them two days to complete this simple, short, form. We'll plug their information into a graphic, post it, and we'll all learn a little more about each other!

Excited to be part of this campaign, but don't want to wait for us to reach out to you? Just fill out the form and we'll feature you on the next available Tuesday slot. Looking forward to getting to know you!
