

MESSAGE FROM THE VICE PRESIDENT

Wow, it's hard to believe that in my second week at UNM we are only a week away from Operation Lobo Move-In.

It has been exhilarating learning about all of the student support, involvement, and intervention services here in Student Affairs.

We truly have a diverse and thriving ecosystem of interconnected services and opportunities here at UNM and incredibly passionate and talented staff.

I continue to be in learning mode and am absorbing information as fast as I can. Your support is truly appreciated. I can't wait to see all that we accomplish together!

~Dr. Scott

Operation Lobo Move-in Operation Lobo Move-in was created to help students move into their residence halls. Any organizations, university students and staff are welcomed to come and help the residents. This is a hands-on volunteer experience since volunteers are expected to physically help students move-in.

It is going to take place from Thursday August 18th through Saturday August 20th from 9 AM -3PM.

We have created a sign-up sheet for individuals to sign up and you can find it here. If you have any questions please email rlshgmt@unm.edu

MEET OUR NEW VASSAR HOUSE ADVOCATE

MICHAEL LOVATO

Lets give a big welcome to our new Vassar House Advocate, Michael Lovato! The Vassar House is located on UNM North Campus. There, Michael will provide confidential advocacy to students who have experienced sexual harassment or assault. He completed his Bachelors degree and is working on his Masters right here at UNM! Michael enjoys mindfulness activities, traveling, and learning to cook new dishes. We are so lucky to have you as part of the team!

As a kid, what did you want to be when you grew up?

A

“The truth? I wanted to be a train engineer. Yes, literally the person who drives the train. I would still love to do this someday, hopefully under proper supervision.”
